Your Nutrition Resource Connection

Are you ready for sessions featuring game-changers BUILDING HEALTHIER COMMUNITIES within our state and beyond? We've asked leaders, nutrition educators, health professionals, up-and-comings, chefs, and policy makers to discuss their work and offer answers to our state's most pressing health challenges. Join this conference, and you will:

- Bring your programming up a notch by learning from innovators on the forefront of creating a better food system for all.
- Unite with other nutrition educators, leaders, and community members to leverage connections and collaborative endeavors.
- Invest in novel solutions for transforming your region's food system, nutrition, physical fitness levels.
- Look hard at the social factors affecting your community's health.
- Drive your organization to the next level by learning best practices in data analytics.

Who is welcome? If you are passionate about promoting and implementing nutrition, physical activity and obesity prevention interventions that encourage positive change, this conference is for you!
